

Future Christian Homemakers' Handbook Endorsements

Laurie Latour is a veritable GODSEND in today's world.... I'd love to put on my apron in Laurie's kitchen and start all over again!

Elisabeth Elliot

Beth Moore

For years my heart has yearned to teach children how to be future homemakers. In this handbook, Laurie has captured in a very easy style how to accomplish that end goal. As one who writes and speaks on home organization, I can earnestly endorse her material.

Emilie Barnes

Homeschooling families will love this great resource! The lessons are very practical. Our daughter has enjoyed FCH and has grown in her confidence and love of homemaking.

E. Ellis, Homeschool Mom

I was excited to have my 11 year old daughter in the FCH class. She came home from the first meeting eager to tell us what they did and to share her loaf of banana bread. The class was a blessing to my daughter and spurred her on to learn more homemaking skills.

Pastor Jim Halstead

There are very few books available today that inspire as well as teach, as this one does. Many "do-it-yourself" books teach certain tasks, but few, if any, tell of the benefits for the young homemaker who learns the Christian values taught in this outstanding book.

Rev. Roy Lamont

I am reminded that most times Jesus met with people, He was either eating with them or feeding the crowds. Laurie is not only one of the best school teachers, but does an excellent service restoring the lost virtues of cooking and serving.
